Jackson Hole Wildlife Film Festival presents The Wyoming Filmmakers Showcase

September 22, 2011 JACKSON, WY. The first Wyoming Filmmakers Showcase screening will be presented October 1st in the recently-opened High Definition Theater at the Craig Thomas Discovery Visitor Center in Grand Teton National Park featuring two sessions of FREE film screenings – at 4:00 and at 6:00pm. Produced by the Jackson Hole Wildlife Film Festival with funding provided by the Wyoming Cultural Trust Fund, the program features recent work of selected regional filmmakers. JHWWF look forward to hosting more screenings throughout the 2011 – 2012 year paired with filmmaker appearances, should speakers and dynamic community discussions.

The Wyoming Filmmakers Showcase collection will be made available to other Wyoming organizations wishing to host screening events in their own communities. Filmmakers will be invited to take part in Q & A sessions and ‘Meet the Filmmakers’ Receptions. If organizations are interested in hosting a screening of the Wyoming Filmmaker showcase films, please contact Carrie Richer.
